

Stories from the Fishing Bay Yacht Club

Fishing Bay Yacht Club

Mail

P.O. Box 29186

Richmond, VA 23242

Club House:

1525 Fishing Bay Road

Deltaville, VA 23043

(804) 776-9636

Website: www.fbyc.net

FISHING BAY YACHT CLUB BECOMES NSHOF FOUNDING MEMBER

From the Commodore:

Fishing Bay Yacht Club is pleased and proud to become a founding member of the National Sailing Hall of Fame. Once we became aware of the mission statement and purpose of the new facility in Annapolis, our Board of Directors voted unanimously to support it.

David Hinckle, Commodore

History

Founded in 1939, Fishing Bay Yacht Club ranks among the senior sailing institutions on Chesapeake Bay. It was originally founded as the Urbanna Yacht Club by nine Richmond yachtsman looking for a suitable home port, the club quickly grew and later moved to its current home in Deltaville, where they overlook the Piankatank River and Jackson Creek.

Page 10
 Saturday, June 10, 1934
 Saturday, June 10, 1934

Robert A. Kelly, in company of the Honorable, Francis T. McLaughlin, Mayor of Boston, is being a member of the club.

Robert Kelly, who is working on the boat, and Kelly, who is working on the boat.

'Ship, Ahoy, Matey,' Say Junior Fleet Fledglings

Robert A. Kelly, who is working on the boat, and Kelly, who is working on the boat.

Robert Kelly, who is working on the boat, and Kelly, who is working on the boat.

Robert Kelly, who is working on the boat, and Kelly, who is working on the boat.

Robert Kelly, who is working on the boat, and Kelly, who is working on the boat.

BACK TO YACHT CLUB STORIES PAGE